CAREER PROFILE

I am a talented and innovative young man, who graduated from Obafemi Awolowo University and the Nigerian Law School. Aspired and captivated by the import of technology in solving modern problems, I have taken and am still taking deliberate steps towards acquainting myself with the aspects of technology in Android App Development, Web Development and Game Development. Through seminars, working with the IT community, participating in jams and attending conferences, I have acquired meaningful experience and exposure to core practice areas of technology, especially in Android App Development, Web Development and Game Development.
